

Hello,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for changing lives & advancing the SDGs.

I am the Executive Director of Youth for Charity Missions International (YOFOCHM), Director Yofochm Media & Yofochm Radio Uganda.

Besides my social entrepreneurship, I have been an active journalist & media consultant since 2006, from working with different media houses in Uganda to opening up my own media company and a radio station. Through my media expertise, I have been able to voluntarily train many young people with media skills in our communities, and supported a lot of young media practicing students on internship from reknown universities and institutions.

Currently my media company & the radio station employs over 20 young people direct/indirectly in photography / videography work, and presentation roles respectively. I have continuously created several platforms for many unemployed youths in our community to acquire media skills from our center; using our facility/ available equipment to train in Radio / TV production, presentation, news writing/reporting work and computer applications.

The aim of the training is to equip media practicing students with the best skills they need to excel & succeed with their studies so that they will carry out professional journalism. And also, to unskilled / unemployed youths in our communities, it is a strategy to train, provide & equip them with basic hands on training and self-employment skills, a key factor towards ending un employment and poverty eradication.

Due to an overwhelming & rising number of youths interested and registered for the training, there is great need for your support. Please feel free to contact us for any contribution.

MORE INFO ABOUT ME

For the past 10years, i have dedicated my whole life to serving youths & with passion, i always want to see a change in a life of a young person. Youth for Charity Missions International (YOFOCHM) focus on youth & community development, and we have in specific extended our emphasis on Young women / Girl child empowerment through advocacy & education. We respond to the needs of young girls and single mothers in our society: the sexually abused, orphans, isolated/needy girls and single mothers who have lost or been abandoned by their husbands. We provide girls / young women with access to: education, Hygiene supplies & provides moral / financial support for single mothers to start up businesses.

I also work with the office of the Mayor, Nakawa division as an Ambassador to implement government programs among young people in Nakawa Division on entrepreneurship & climate change action. Please see part of my work here: <http://yofochm.org>

Thank you for your help, as we strive to turn young people into entrepreneurs.

Yours,

Stephen Kapere,
